

Please find below details of all workplace Federation Representatives who are on hand to be the first point of contact in relation to any issue or query you may have.

Our workplace Representatives are able to represent you in a number of ways. Examples include representing an individual officer with a grievance, a complaint that has been made against them, a problem to do with disability (making reasonable adjustments), representing member(s) at workplace management meetings, health and safety meetings, meeting with HR or personnel staff about issues relating to an officers' sickness or performance.

They can also assist with any questions relating to Regulations including duty related queries. Please also utilise our website FAQ area in the first instance as this may be able to assist with any general query you may have.
